Remote Desktop for Business

Allow you or your employees access to their work computers from their home office, securely with Splashtop. You won't have to worry about transferring data to the cloud or investing in additional hardware or software licenses.

Employees will be able to remote into their work computers, access their files, and run the applications they need. Your company's data will be secure as Splashtop provides highly secure remote connections and has multiple security features built in.

Robust Security

Security is at the essence of Splashtop's operations and architecture. All sign-ins undergo mandatory device authentication and optional two-factor authentication. Sessions are protected with TLS and 256-bit AES encryption.

High-Performance

Advanced performance architecture powers blazing-fast remote access with interactive HD video and audio sessions and frame rates up to 60 fps.
